Welcome Back to Sunday Worship!

8:30 a.m. Exalt Worship Service

11:00 a.m. Revive Worship Service

Our in-person worship services have returned, and we hope you can join us! Cleaning and sanitizing protocols are being followed before and after each service to provide a worship experience that is abundantly safe for those who wish to attend in person.

We realize that some people may still choose to worship with us from home, and this is understandable. For those folks, please worship each Sunday with us live on our website (fbcl.org), our Facebook page (First Baptist Church of Longview), or via our app (FBC Longview).

Update on LifeGroups:

We have good news! Starting SUNDAY, JULY 26, we are re-opening for in-person LifeGroups to gather again each week at 9:45 a.m. in the BCEB in your regular meeting room. Some classes are ready to jump back into their normal routine of weekly LifeGroup time, and some classes are not going to be ready to make that move yet. We are encouraging each LifeGroup and department to make the best decision for each of your classes as to when you would like to resume meeting on Sunday mornings. Check with your LifeGroup leaders regarding your particular department or class. We are simply providing the time, space, and opportunity for our groups to meet again.

If your LifeGroup chooses to resume meeting, we strongly encourage everyone to wear masks, distance appropriately in the room, and not have common food or drink provided (i.e. coffee and donuts). If class members choose to bring their own personal food or drink from home, that's totally fine.

We look forward to seeing you again, at the right time you decide, in our Sunday worship and Bible study hours. Thank you for your patience and perseverance through this unprecedented time in our world and through this season of ongoing ministry at First Baptist Longview!
